this book is mainly intended for first year university students who undertake a basic abstract algebra course as well as instructors it contains the basic notions of abstract algebra through solved exercises as well as a true or false section in each chapter each chapter also contains an essential background section which makes the book easier to use the american mathematical monthly recommended this advanced undergraduate level text for teacher education it starts with groups rings fields and polynomials and advances to galois theory radicals and roots of unity and solution by radicals numerous examples illustrations commentaries and exercises enhance the text along with 13 appendices 1971 edition this book the first of two volumes contains over 250 selected exercises in algebra which have featured as exam questions for the arithmetic course taught by the authors at the university of pisa each exercise is presented together with one or more solutions carefully written with consistent language and notation a distinguishing feature of this book is the fact that each exercise is unique and requires some creative thinking in order to be solved the themes covered in this volume are mathematical induction combinatorics modular arithmetic abelian groups commutative rings polynomials field extensions finite fields the book includes a detailed section recalling relevant theory which can be used as a reference for study and revision a list of preliminary exercises introduces the main techniques to be applied in solving the proposed exam questions this volume is aimed at first year students in mathematics and computer science the book is intended to serve as an introductory course in group theory geared towards second year university students it aims to provide them with the background needed to pursue more advanced courses in algebra and to provide a rich source of examples and exercises studying group theory began in the late eighteenth century and is still gaining importance due to its applications in physics chemistry geometry and many fields in mathematics the text is broadly divided into three parts the first part establishes the prerequisite knowledge required to study group theory this includes topics in set theory geometry and number theory each of the chapters ends with solved and unsolved exercises relating to the topic by doing this the authors hope to fill the gaps between all the branches in mathematics that are linked to group theory the second part is the core of the book which discusses topics on semigroups groups symmetric groups subgroups homomorphisms isomorphism and abelian groups the last part of the book introduces sage a mathematical software that is used to solve group theory problems here most of the important commands in sage are explained and many examples and exercises are provided
